Inspiring Impactful Leadership

Leadership is the ability to inspire change, create a better environment and make a lasting impact. As leaders, the choices we make and actions we take daily will have long-term effects on future generations.

The focus of this event is to explore and discover how our industry will need to evolve and adapt to a changing world.

Session 1 – 10

Changing the Future of Tourism

Niall Gibbons HFIHI, Head of Tourism, NEOM In Conversation with Oonagh Cremins FIHI, The Innovate Room

Regenerative tourism seeks to ensure travel and tourism reinvest in people, places and nature while supporting the long-term renewal and development of social-ecological systems.

NEOM is the world's most ambitious tourism project. Built on an ancient land, enhanced by world-leading design, immersive digital experiences and seamless travel, it will reshape the possibilities of global travel. Nurturing raw, untouched landscapes and spectacular coastal waters, this will be a new model for measurably regenerative tourism and a destination like no other.

Session 2 – 10:40

Leadership, A Transformational Change – 11:35 Key Speaker Breda McCague

Breda is a Motivational Speaker and an Accredited Emotional Intelligence coach. With over twenty years in the Reserve Defence Forces, Breda's military training and coaching expertise culminates in a style that reignites, illuminates, empowers and resets focus. She coaches individuals, and small and large groups, from a wide range of backgrounds, from the start-up community and small business owners, right through to career corporates in large multinationals. She is extremely passionate about the nature of her work and is determined to ensure an even playing field exists for everyone to take control of their own career path.

As a Transformational Change specialist in Financial Services for almost 20 years, Breda has driven, embedded and overseen extensive change programmes across a number of large financial institutions in Ireland and the UK. She specialises in Technical, Innovative and Cultural change.

Breda will share insights on transformational change in leadership, and how to develop your own personal brand, goals, and individual legacy. We look forward to an empowering session.

IHI 'Mentors Matter' Launch

The IHI is delighted to launch our 'Mentors Matter' Programme

We know mentoring isn't just about helping other people or about being altruistic, it can make us better managers and better leaders. Mentoring therefore remains important throughout life.

Mentoring — both having a mentor and being a mentor — can prove invaluable for all involved.

IHI Members will now have access to our new mentoring platform as part of their member benefits. The platform provides a seamless user experience and practical support to members at all levels of their careers, with a focus on soft skills and career development.

The platform will officially launch on Tuesday, 10th October.

Expressions of interest are now being taken, should you wish to register as a mentor or mentee. Please email tina.maree@ihi.ie
